November 2010 Vol. 30, No. 2

JOURNAL OF THE HISTORY GUILD OF DALYCITY/COLMA

Greetings from President Mark

I hope that you are all able to make the November 17 meeting as we have a real treat in store. Dave Crimmen, one of our members and former childhood resident of Broadmoor, has written the definitive history of that community and will be our featured speaker. Copies of his Arcadia Press book, Broadmoor Village, will be on sale and he will be autographing them--at no extra charge I might add! This is sure to be a really fun and informative evening. We encourage you to invite friends as our meetings are always without charge and open to all who have a penchant for local history.

A spry group of Guild members led by Vaughn and Gloriann Jones hike in early September to the Tobin tunnel at Mussel Rock. Four generations of the Gillespie Clan participated!

Some of the Guild recently took a short field trip to Mussel Rock, at the Daly City/Pacifica border. This was led by former Guild Board Members Vaughn and Gloriann Jones. About 20 family and friends walked the trail to Mussel Rock to observe the tunnel that was created in 1875 by Richard Tobin, a prominent attorney and founder of the former Hibernia Savings & Loan. Tobin had a vacation home near today's Pacifica and blasted an opening through solid rock to create a tunnel for a shorter, direct route from his main residence in San Francisco. Nature intervened with harsh storms and tides, and the tunnel was quickly abandoned. At the site, there are several tide pools, magnificent views of the Pacific and public works efforts to prevent ocean erosion. Vaughn is considering leading a second hike to the tunnel next spring if there is sufficient interest.

I am pleased to report that the City of Daly City has selected its 11-member Daly City 2011 Centennial Committee. Guild board members Marian Mann and Marilyn Olcese, Guild Board Emerita Bunny Gillespie, and Guild members Georgette Sarles, Al Teglia and Stan Gustavson all have been selected to participate.

Half Moon Bay Review/August 11, 2010 – "Flip through the pages and a small unincorporated hamlet comes into focus. Norman Rockwell-ish in style - with baseball teams, toddlers, old cars, buildings and cheerleaders - this is Broadmoor, as represented in "Images of America: Broadmoor Village"... a place where you knew your neighbors."

Dave Crimmen, author of the recently published Images of America book "Broadmoor Village" will be the featured speaker at the History Guild's final History Night of 2010 on November 17th. Dave grew up in Broadmoor and lived there for 30 years, graduating from local schools, Garden Village and Ben Franklin. He also attended Westmoor High School. Dave is a professional musician whose original music has been used in major motion pictures. He is a Guild member and docent at the Daly City History Museum and at the nearby Colma Museum.

Dave will be telling us about his book, how he came about to write it and where the great photographs in the book came from. He will have available books to sell and he will be more than willing to sign copies that are Also, Vaughn Jones, First Vice President Rich Rocchetta, and vocalists are practicing away for the Guild's Grand Birthday Party in January. They will present a medley you won't want to miss of tunes from the 1911 era, Daly City's centennial year.

Dana Smith, Guild Second Vice-President and Museum Director, is in the process of researching a timeline exhibit that will be installed in our new tabletop displays. Significant events in the transformation of this community over the past 100 years will be the theme. There will be a special focus on our photo archive that was collected in 1973 by then City Librarian Samuel C. Chandler [living in Park Merced apartments and still going strong at 92!] for his book Gateway to the Peninsula: A History of the City of Daly City.

Board Emerita Bunny Gillespie, Vice President Richard Rocchetta and Board Member Michael Rocchetta organized a new exhibit to celebrate Veteran's Day in a newly acquired glass showcase. It includes a letter from Eleanor Roosevelt and Gen. George Marshall and medals and artifacts from Ronald Doyle and the late Paul Tolovi.

I'm sorry to share that our Plexiglas protectors which safeguard the granite dedication plaques on the front of the museum recently were scratched with permanent graffiti. The protectors performed their job very well and made sure that the polished granite itself was not defaced. This is the third incident of graffiti we have suffered, the other two being on painted surfaces that were quickly covered. While the marred plastic is very noticeable it is too expensive to replace--the price we have to pay for those who don't respect themselves or others.

Congratulations are due to our neighbors, the Colma Historical Association, on their slide show presentation on the unique history of Colma to the California Council for the Promotion of History's fall conference in Sonora in late October.

And finally, we want to thank everyone for their generous support in 2010. Before you know it 2011 will be here, which brings me to the subject of membership renewals. November is the beginning of our membership renewal campaign – we have enclosed a renewal card and return envelope for your convenience. Of course, memberships make an ideal holiday, birthday, or other gift--especially for that young person who might be a budding historian-in-the-making. For gift memberships, we will send a special card announcing your gift with several of our most recent Tattler newsletters.

THANKS TO REFRESHMENT DONORS FOR OUR NOVEMBER MEETING:

Judith Christensen, Marilyn Olcese, Gloriann and Vaughn Jones, Pat Hatfield and Marie Brizuela have volunteered to provide treats for our November meeting. Elinor Charleston is our Hospitality Chair, assisted by Marilyn Olcese.

Thanks to Marian Mann for organizing our raffle.

CENTENNIAL MEMORIES

By Ken & Bunny Gillespie, Daly City Historians

Because her name came up in trivial conversation recently, we (royal plural) were thinking this week about our dear friend Jane Powell. We had been asked, "Who was the first woman elected to the Daly City Council?" We were happy to supply the name of Jane Powell, not the movie star of singing and dancing fame, nor the Jane Powell who was the Mayor of Burlingame. We were pleased to recall the Jane Powell that we met back around 1982. She had become Daly City's first ever female Councilmember and we remember being very impressed with the idea of a woman holding such a high position in Daly City government. She was chosen by her fellow council members to be Daly City's first woman Mayor in 1982.

We remember a time that the History Guild was to have a membership meeting at the Doelger Center, back in the earliest days of the Guild, and we arrived to find the community room was untidy and not prepared as promised. With only about a half hour before the festivities were to start, Jane found a broom, used it and helped shove chairs into place. She had been a member of the Guild since its inception and rarely missed a meeting, often bringing treats and raffle prizes. The next morning, we were told, the Councilwoman placed an administrative phone call. The oversights were never again to become an issue.

We were also remembering the Jane Powell who is credited with co-founding John's Closet in 1988 with her friend, Irene Papan. It was a true labor of love. Both Irene and Jane have passed on now, but the legacy they left for school children of less than abundant means lives on, serving youngsters from age four through eighteen.

After eleven years as a trustee of the Jefferson Union High School District, and another eleven years on the Council, Jane vacated her blue swivel chair on the dais and resigned from public office in 1993. She had served three one-year terms as Mayor. She loved meeting people and was tireless when her Councilperson duties beckoned. Getting to out- of- town meetings, however, wasn't always the most comfortable of situations for Jane. She didn't like to drive and was always happy when she could hitch a ride. Even as a passenger, she especially didn't enjoy going over bridges. When her political career ended, Jane chose to never look back. A bit nostalgically, however, she once remarked to a local journalist, "something has been lost with the changes that growth and political turnover have brought to Daly City... I was told that we were a family." Jane knew well the meaning of family. Over the years, she was the guiding light for her own and an extended family of young men and women. Her home was often full of after-school visitors.

When John's Closet offered increased opportunity to directly serve youngsters Jane became an ardent volunteer, greeting, measuring, and outfitting children at Ben Franklin Middle School and taking home shopping bags of clothing that needed mending, buttons, snaps, hems, etc. Jane's sewing supplies and pile after pile of waiting mending practically took over her bedroom, then her dining room, and finally her living room. She used to say that she'd "never get to the bottom of the pile", and she didn't. After she could no longer leave her home, deliveries were made to her - needles and threads were waiting.

She was a lady of influence and leadership in Daly City for well over twenty years. She died in June of 1999 and the football field at Westmoor High School has been dedicated to her memory. It was an honor to be among her friends and "Centennial Memories" is happy to share a bit of her history and salute Jane Powell, Daly City's first official female gavel-wielder. K/BG

(Note: The collection of high school yearbooks of the late Betty Schultz and Jane Powell were just donated to our museum.)

Names in Marriage Licenses Sadly Mixed – Sisters Marry Wrong Men at 1914 Double

Wedding Submitted by Russ Brabec Reprinted from article at www.genealogybank.com

San Francisco, June 5, 1914 – Evening News

It is too much for Supervisor James T. Casey of San Mateo, used as he is to matters of delicacy and intricacy. It's too much for his two daughters, Alice and Margaret, who were married some months ago at a big double wedding in Colma. It was last January that the double wedding was celebrated at St. Ann's [Holy Angels] church at Colma. And it was a lovely wedding too. But somehow, between the altar rail and the office where the marriage certificates are registered, a little breeze of mischance played with the four names of the wedded couples and got them sadly tangled up.

Now it is the problem of straightening them out without recourse to another marriage ceremony that is bothering Casey, the Barrett and the Savage families. As things stand now, Margaret Casey, who stood up at the altar with Robert D. Savage, finds that the registrar of marriages has given her John F. Barrett for a husband. And Barrett, who stood up at the altar with former Alice Casey, finds that the registrar of marriages has made him the husband of her sister Margaret.

Finding themselves each married to both of their husbands, to one by the church and the other by the state, Supervisor Casey's daughters at first didn't know whether to laugh or cry. The error was made in recording the names was not discovered until a day or two ago. The Barretts went on a trip east after the wedding, while the Savages went on an automobile trip to Southern California. Then when they went to have the matter straightened out and have the proper marriage certificates legally registered, they found that the time limit for this proceeding had expired.
